Dear Emmanuel,

RE: EXTENSION OF YOUR TRAINING PERIOD AT THE CAMTech UGANDA.

Based on your decent performance in the last 4 months of your stay at the Consortium for Affordable Medical Technologies (CAMTech) Uganda, Global Health Collaborative MUST is pleased to extend your training period for another 4 months. This extension is meant to enable you complete the unfinished research tasks as the Project Coordinator of the Vein Locator Project, a medical technology innovation incubated in CAMTech's co-creation Lab.

The extension time shall begin from November 7, 2016 and during this period, the volunteer terms and conditions will remain unchanged.

In addition to your generation of weekly performance reports in line with the set targets for the vein locator project, you will work closely with the management and staff of CAMTech-Uganda to: identify and implement innovation opportunities, manage social sites, and render support in the daily running of CAMTech's activities.

Lydia Asimwe | CAMTech Uganda Administrative Manager will be your supervisor and will work with you closely in the preparation for your work. She will be responsible for your work and responding to your request for assistance.

We look forward to continue working with you in the organization with hope that you will utilize every opportunity to gain professional experience and enhance the organizational goals. I encourage you to continue search for areas of your interest that you need to be trained in while you are with us.

At any time, Global Health Collaborative MUST may choose to terminate your training term based on changing needs of the project or your professional behavior.

Yours sincerely,

Turinawe Ezra | IRB Coordinator and Infrastructure Manager
Global Health Collaborative Mbarara – Uganda
